Client Case Study

Anglian Building Products

Anglian Building Products, which is the large project division of Anglian Windows, was looking for an accessibility solution that gives much greater flexibility. It operates predominantly in the social housing refurbishment sector installing window, door and external wall insulation solutions and engaging with residents through the journey is a priority.

Our Brief

Anglian Building Products was looking for an accessibility solution that gives much greater flexibility.

Our Solution

Recite Me was added to Anglian Building Products' website to make its resident information accessible and inclusive for everyone. And it has also added a version of the Recite Me logo onto its hard copy versions of guides and handbooks. This forward thinking is letting residents know that they can visit the website to use Recite Me to easily access information.

We are also currently expanding this area to provide more information and support to help residents through the customer journey, from pre-works installation to post-work maintenance. Overall, Recite Me has proved to be a great accessibility solution for us and we'd happily recommend it.
